PLANET EARTH CLASS AT GOULD ATTENDS POLLUTION HEARING

Members of Alvin Barth's Planet Earth Class at Gould Academy traveled to Augusta Friday, Nov. 7, to attend a public hearing dealing with pollution. The purpose of this hearing and one to follow was to discuss the problem of coastal pollution in Maine which is largely due to the development of large industries such as mining and oil transportation and refining. There will hopefully be recommendations on this subject for the state legislature this January.

The Planet Earth Class is basically earth science, with special emphasis on man's practical responsibility and role in his environment.

Recently the class has been conducting a study of "Freshman Brook", correctly named Millbrook, surveying its course, determining its dissolved mineral content, water velocity, capacity, and et cetera. Millbrook also is an example of man's careless pollution, and through the facts found during the study the class would like to arouse some public indignation about local pollution, to begin in a small way what the hearings in Augusta hope to accomplish state-wide. (written by Robin McKinley, class of 1970, Gould Academy).

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Ronald Coulombe has been hired as spare police officer to replace Walter Woodford who resigned because of a conflict of hours with his regular employment.

Mr. Coulombe was a patrolman on the Lewiston police force prior to moving to Bethel. He now is manager of the Bethel Shoe Company.

Plans are being formulated to incorporate the West Bethel water system with the Bethel Water District. This will bring both areas under the jurisdiction of the Water District Trustees. Whatever policies or rates that apply to one will apply to the other after the transition.

An attempt will be made to enforce the existing laws pertaining to plowing snow across streets. We experienced a great deal of trouble last winter from this. At times trucks had to be sent out just to wing back one place where snow had been left where it would interfere with traffic. Also in attempts to move the extra accumulation we had equipment damaged.

VANDALS CAUSE DAMAGE AT PATCH MT. CEMETERY

Vandals have caused an estimated $2,000 damage at an historic old cemetery on Patch Mountain in Greenwood, tipping headstones from bases and in some instances smashing markers. The cemetery, which dates to the early 18th century, had been maintained in good condition by residents of the isolated area. The site is approximately two miles from the nearest year-round home, in an area frequented occasionally by hunters. The estimate of damage was fixed by a manufacturer of stone monuments.

Susan Farrar attended an all day workshop at the Holiday Inn in Portland on Sunday. Classes in jazz, tap, and ballet, were held Betty Breen of Worcester, Mass., and Charles Kelley of New York taught. A special class in acrobatics was held by Charles Kelley who is considered one of the best in the country. Attending the students' classes with Mrs. Farrar was Terry Roy.

FORERUNNER OF THANKSGIVING FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

Dripping skies did not deter 47 cheerful people from gathering at Garland Chapel on Tuesday for the November meeting of the Senior Citizens.

The president, Mrs. Walter Bond, presided. Rev. Charles E. Schleich was guest minister. Mrs. Hugh Miller of Brownville Junction, and Mrs. Lottie E. Brackett of South Paris, were guests.

Women from Our Lady of the Snows parish were gracious hostesses. Dining room and tables were gay with seasonal decorations and a sumptuous roast turkey dinner. Honored for November birthdays were Lyle Martin, Daisy Warren, Pearl Tibbitts, Adeline Dexter and Mrs. Hugh Miller.

Group singing of patriotic songs introduced the afternoon program. This was viewing a color sound movie issued by the State of Maine of Scenic State Parks. The machine was operated by James Ogg of Gould Academy.

The scenes were delightful and afforded a chance to see the beauty and grandeur of Maine's forests, sea coast, and mountains.

The next courteous indulgence for Bethel Seniors will be a supper given them by the Bethel Chamber of Commerce on Dec. 9 at Garland Chapel.

SUFFICIENT INTEREST SHOWN TO PROCEED WITH VOLUNTEER AMBULANCE ASSIST GROUP

There was sufficient interest shown at the Sunday night meeting held at the Bethel fire station of those desiring to help with an ambulance service so that plans are being made to start Medical Self-Help classes the first week in December. The group has been divided into two classes, one to meet on Tuesday evenings, and the other on Friday evenings.

Although there has been a good response, more are still needed to help with the project. Anyone desiring more information, is asked to contact Paul Bodwell, Clarence (Bud) Howe, or John Greenleaf.

ADDITIONAL PHYSICIAN FOR COMMUNITY IS TOP PRIORITY PROJECT FOR HEALTH COUNCIL

The Bethel Health Council announced recently that its top priority project for the coming year will be to work diligently towards attracting an additional physician to the community. The physician-procurement committee includes Avery Angevine, a member of the Bethel Board of Selectmen; Richard Dolven, Headmaster of Gould Academy; Wilbur Myers, Bethel Planning Board; Mrs. Dexter Stowell, chairman, representing the Bethel Health Council, and Mrs. Rosabelle Tift who will assist with publicity and promotion.

It has long been realized that the health of the community has many unmet needs, and that a physician working in the area with Dr. John Young and Dr. Loy Harrell would provide the leadership and manpower towards more comprehensive health care.

Dr. George Robertson, medical director of the Bingham Associates Fund, met with leaders in the community last March and urged that the citizens take strong, positive action on physician-recruitment. He emphasized the need for a rural community to offer more by way of services, which should include a physician's office facilities and living quarters for rent or lease. Because of the distance to area hospitals, ambulance services would be looked upon as a "must" by any prospective physician.

The task of attracting a physician may be summed up as two-fold: to provide professional happiness to the physician, and domestic happiness for him and his family. The first must be met by this special committee through this aggressive program that is being undertaken. The latter could be considered accomplished through the friendly and congenial atmosphere of the community.

Several meetings with area hospital officials and the Maine Medical Association have produced some professional and domestic issues. The committee realizes that the efforts are long and tedious, and have in the past resulted in frustrations and failures. The committee urges the cooperation and support of all active citizens in their efforts to provide better medical care through the services of another physician.

GOALS OF EDUCATION REMAIN SAME, TELSTAR PRINCIPAL INFORMS CHAMBER AUDIENCE

The purposes and goals of education remain constant, according to Keith Cunningham, principal of Telstar Regional High School. Speaking before a meeting of the Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening, Mr. Cunningham said that methods of helping the students develop values, skills and a culture to become a productive citizen have changed in the past 10 years.

To prepare the student for life in the 1980's and 1990's, a wider use of machines to assist in instruction and a more discriminating use of laboratory facilities in the 70's is predicted by educators according to Mr. Cunningham. During the 60's a wider use of teaching machines as well as courses in music and art have become more prevalent.

Mr. Cunningham went on to point out that the flexible modular program was no panacea to the shortcomings of the so-called standard curriculum. In many areas the "mod" system needs more study and work.

Brian Flynn, Telstar assistant principal, pointed out that under either system, standard or flexible modular scheduling the realities of life remain the same. Life's duties, yes and no, easy and difficult; must be considered as a student moves through progressive phases to desired goals.

It was stated, in answer to a question from the audience that some work was being done, mainly self evaluation by the staff, toward eventual accreditation of Telstar. Also scheduling difficulties were cited as reasons why some students have few physical education classes; another year should see this remedied.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be held at the West Parish Congregational Church on Tuesday, Nov. 9. At that time a Christmas Party for the Senior Citizens will be held.

MT. ABRAM LODGE, I. O. O. F. HOLDS INSTALLATION

Mount Abram Lodge No. 31, I. O. O. F., held its installation of officers, Friday evening, Nov. 7.

The officers were installed by District Deputy Grand Master Sheldon Davis, and staff from Mt. Mica Lodge, No. 17, of South Paris.

At the installation ceremonies, following a 7 o'clock supper, the following officers were installed: Noble Grand, Randall H. Gilbert; Vice Grand, Francis Buckman; Secretary, Rodney H. Hanson; Treasurer, Reginald S. Godwin; Right Supporter of Noble Grand, Shirley Chase; Inside Guardian, Earl R. Hutchins.

And laugh a little more
The sorrow in our hearts,

God had a home in Heaven
That he wanted you to fill,
But the place you left on earth
Is so empty, empty still.

GREENWOOD CITY
— Mrs. Calista Morgan, Corres. —
Last week I spent a few hours on Mt. Battie looking down on the little town of Camden.

The day was perfect for "seeing" but the breeze was a bit cool. The place was turned to wonderment as we climbed the tower with Old Glory flapping there in the breeze.

Leaves rustled as the wind played about. Some quietly coasted and were still, while others in a gayer mood sailed on down the mountain side, laughing and dancing then coming to rest in autumn's chill.

Nestled below us was this beautiful town with its harbor of boats. The long swell of the tide with the cold waters sloshed and the boats gently rocked in the coves.
In the opposite direction there were lovely lakes snuggled among the trees and hills.

The color and light on this the Penobscot Bay, was ever changing for all the way from the open sea to the sheltered inlets there are gradations of shifting water.

Across this expanse were the many islands, large and small, covered with their evergreens thick and hard.

Through our binoculars we could spot the house on North Haven to which we would soon take the ferry.

The landscape of the sea, man has never been able to spoil and its beauty goes rolling on under a calm or a wild sky. These waves vary: like snowflakes, no two are the same. In unprotected places where the shore faces directly into the open, boulders jostle each other. The pounding on the rocks in a storm tosses the spray over the shoulders of granite.

We ate our lunch as we looked out over all this vastness then time forced us to leave.

Each morning thereafter while in North Haven, I'd climb the hill behind the house as the sunlight began to bloom through the early morning clouds and look across the bay. The gulls with bell like cries circled round and round. The silvery surf was marked by dark accents at times; ducks setting down out there over the free waters. The tides rose and lapped.

Looking beyond to Mt. Battie I could scarcely believe that a few hours ago I stood on its pinnacle with the stars and stripes flying above me. Our flag, the glorious heritage of America, born in 1777, the banner of hope and freedom for generation after generation, was planted firmly on this pinnacle in memory of our Boys. Its gently fluttering folds must be an inspiration as it ripple against the blue sky, a colorful and beautiful symbol of liberty, freedom, justice, and glory.

"O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free
And the home of the brave."

Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt, David and Ann, were in Lewiston on Saturday.
Elmer Hayes has been moved from the Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Farrington wishes to publicly thank each citizen for their support of the PTA as shown by their membership. It is nice to know that so many care about the work of the PTA.

The membership drive served a two-fold purpose: 1—to increase the number of members; 2—as a fund raising project, since a portion of the dues remain with the local unit.

Anyone wishing to join the PTA is welcome at ANY TIME, not just during enrollment days.

The Go Ahead PTA recently sponsored the Halloween party for the children of the two towns, and served refreshments for open house at both schools. Currently they are finalizing plans for a program on drugs for the communities, and a Christmas party for the children. All this is possible because they have the support and co-operation of their citizens.

Thank you one and all for a job well done.

Members of the third grade are: Teresa Bryant, Joy Calkins, Judith Campbell, John Clukey, Walter Curtis, Brenda Cushing, Ronald Dugan, Susan Dugan, Alan Dunham, Wanda Ellsworth, Tania Hathiaway, Kendall Kenniston, Julie Martin, Maureen Millett, Betsy Mills, Joseph Mills, Nathan Mills, Janice Morgan, Jonathan Morgan, Robin Morgan, Teresa Morgan, Elizabeth Treadwell, Earl Hopkins, Debra Howard, Thomas Cary, Marc Rainy, Michael Rosenberg, Bethany Rowe, Robert Seames, Dean Smith, Melinda Wright, Peter York.
